

CAHSPR ACRSPS

Canadian Association for Health Services and Policy Research

L'Association canadienne pour la recherche sur les services et les politiques de la santé

Student Working Group

VICTORIA HALDANE

Victoria Haldane (MPH) is currently a PhD candidate in Health Services Research at the Institute of Health, Policy, Management and Evaluation, University of Toronto. Her dissertation work, funded by the Canadian Institute of Health Research (CIHR) Doctoral Award (CGS-D), is a mixed methods process evaluation of an eHealth intervention to support persons living with tuberculosis adhere to their medications in Tibet, China. She is also a University of Toronto Global Scholar with the Dalla Lana School of Public Health. She holds a Masters in Public Health from Chinese University of Hong Kong and previously worked at National University of Singapore and Duke NUS Medical School. She is a founding member and Co-President 2020/2021 of Emerging Leaders for Environmental Sustainability in Healthcare (ELESH), intern at the Centre for Sustainable Health Systems and Planetary Health Alliance Campus

Ambassador 2020/2021. Her research interests include implementation science, program evaluation for complex interventions, quality of care, equitable access to care, health systems resilience and making our health systems better for people and the planet.