CAHSPR Corridor Chats
Wednesday, May 19, 2021
5:00pm to 6:00pm

This speed mentoring session will give participants the opportunity to participate in 10-minute small group conversations led by our esteemed group of mentors.
If you’ve ever wondered why and how you would partner with patients/caregivers in your research, this session will introduce you to researchers and patient partners who have successfully partnered on research studies. They will discuss the why and how but also the barriers and how they resolved them. The session will aim to tackle the hard questions.
The purpose of this session is to engage with the CAHSPR community to increase awareness, stimulate discussion, create connections, and determine CAHSPR community needs regarding impact and RIA. Participants will leave the session with 1) an increased awareness of impact and RIA, the CHSRPA Framework and indicators, as well as considerations for RIA, 2) new connections with others interested in and practicing RIA in their organizations, 3) information to increase impact awareness within their organizations and 4) better shared understanding of RIA concepts and needs within the CAHSPR community.

Dr. Nathan Stall (Panelist)
Dr. Joanie Sims-Gould (Panelist)
Dr. David Keselman (Panelist)
Dr. Jennifer Zelmer (Moderator)
Dr. Rick Glazier (Session Synthesis)

This CAHSPR session will bring together perspectives of those involved in the IST program, including researchers, decision makers, staff and residents, to foster discussion regarding their experiences strengthening pandemic preparedness in LTC/RH homes.

The session aims to facilitate dialogue around questions such as: what policies and approaches are most effective at ensuring safe family presence in homes? How has the rapidly evolving pandemic context impacted the implementation and success of IST intervention/innovation(s) and what strategies have been successful in adapting to this evolving context?
Given that the pandemic has accelerated the evolution of health services and policy research in Canada, it is a good time to take stock of our assets and envision our collective future. Join us for a facilitated dialogue that maps out an HSPR ecosystem designed to meet the challenges that lay ahead.
